What's Back Of The Chicago Labor War

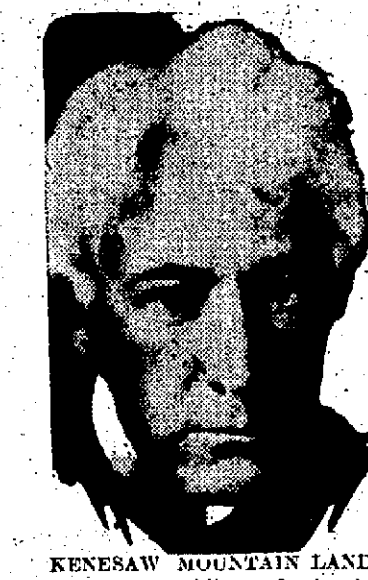

THOMAS F. WALSH, business agent for the Sheet Metal Workers' Union.

"BIG TIM" MURPHY, head of the Gas House Workers and Street Cleaners' Union.

KICKHAM SCANLAN, Chicago chief justice, who elected on a labor platform, made a scathing denunciation of labor conditions in Chicago in an address to the jury in open court.

KENESAW MOUNTAIN LANDIS, now supreme arbiter of baseball, who as federal judge made the wage award that led to the Chicago labor trouble.

CHARLES C. FITZMORRIS, police chief of Chicago, who says he is going to the bottom of the murders in connection with Chicago's labor war and make the guilty pay.

WILLIAM F. QUESSE, former head of the Chicago Flat Janitors' Union.

FRED MADER, president of the Chicago Building Trades Council.

By NEA Service.
CHICAGO—The Chicago labor war, now on in full blast, has been waged in more or less violent fashion for 12 years. Causes behind the present trouble are these:
REFUSAL by 10 of the 12 building trades unions to accept the conditions laid down in the Judge Landis award, cutting building trades workers' wages approximately 12.5 per cent.

REPUTATION by the 10 unions of their agreement to the Landis award.
EMPLOYMENT of outside non-union labor by the Chicago Citizens' Committee, which has taken hold of the labor situation purely for the sake of getting the $110,000,000 belated building program under way.
REFUSAL of the Citizens' Committee to recognize or deal with either officers or men of the insurgent 10 as a union group as punishment for failure to live up to their agreement to the Landis award.
PUBLIC disapproval and demand for inquiry into the trials of union leaders who were freed from criminal charges under unusual circumstances.

Began In July
The present disturbances date back to last July. Up to that time officials believed that the long years of labor wars would come to an end following the seemingly satisfactory magna charta of new working conditions handed down by Judge Landis, formerly on the federal bench. But the 10 unions rebelled against it. These 10 were:

Carpenters, sheet metal workers, cement finishers, hoisting engineers, fixture hangers, lathers, plumbers, laborers, composition roofers and slate and tile roofers.
The remaining 22 union crafts abided by their acceptance of the agreement.
Even as far back as early spring Fred Mader, president of the Building Trades Council, issued a public warning that after April 1 he did not see how he could any longer keep his men in check or prevent (Continued on Page Eight)

SENATE ORDERS PROBE OF STEEL MERGER

Leaders Indicted For Murder

CHICAGO, May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Police and civic organizations today saw in the indictment of eight Chicago labor leaders and the state attorney's threat to use against them the law involved 36 years ago to obtain executions of the haymarket rioters a smashing blow at what they termed gang terrorism.
In the first night session on record, a Cook county special grand jury returned true bills charging murder against "Big Tim" Murphy, head of the gas workers' union; Fred Mader, president of the Chicago Building Trades Council; and Cornelius P. (Cun) Shea, secretary-treasurer of the theater janitors' union, referred to as the "big three" of the vicious labor circle, and five others.
The indictments were forerunners of scores of others, city and county officials said. More than 400 persons were arrested and but few have been released, with the greater number denied freedom on writs of habeas corpus.
Union Chiefs Indicted
Other names in the indictments are Isador Braverman, head of the fixture hangers' union; Daniel McCarthy, business agent of the plumbers' union; Jerry Moran, saloon keeper; Thomas Hogan, former police officer and Robert McClellan, clerk in the Building Trades Council.
The eight are charged specifically with the killing of Porfirio Lyons, police lieutenant. The slaying of Lyons followed the murder of Thomas Clark, patrolman on guard at a building, which previously had been looted, police say, by labor men because it was being erected under the Landis award, a wage decision handed down by K. M. Landis, federal judge, which was intended to settle the dispute between contractors and labor.
Efforts of attorneys for the labor leaders to obtain the release of Murphy, Shea, Mader and the others failed when Judge Kickham Scanlan declared that a state of war existed between labor and the police.

COMPLETE EQUIPMENT OF U. S. FIGHTING FLEET WITH AIRCRAFT IS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Plans for complete equipment of the fighting fleet with aircraft during the coming fiscal year, it was learned today, have been laid before the senate naval committee by Rear Admiral Moffat, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics. The project contemplates placing 213 airplanes of various essential types on battleships, cruisers, scouts and other vessels and is designed to furnish the fleet with its own aerial defense enemy aircraft attacks.
Under the plan eighty-six small swift fighting planes will be included in the aircraft to become a permanent part of the fleet aircraft defense. The machines to be used for this purpose are believed by navy officials to be the best yet developed for fighting in air, having been completely developed under navy control since the close of the war. They are designed to meet in air and repel raids against the ships of the fleet by enemy bombers.
In addition the active ships will carry 40 observation and spotting planes, 27 small spotters, 36 torpedo or bombing planes, 18 scouts and four kite balloons, for observation purposes. Each battleship of the 18 comprising the fleet under the naval limitation treaty will carry four planes, two V-F, or single fighters, one big spotter and one torpedo or bombing plane. The torpedo plane will permit attack on enemy surface craft with 1,500 pound torpedoes or with an equal weight in bombs.

Catapult launching devices recently developed and tried out successfully are to be installed on all ships enabling them to send away their aerial defense squadrons even in a heavy sea.
This airplane equipment sought by the navy as an immediate answer, it was explained at the department, to assertions that surface craft were defenseless against enemy air bomb attacks.

STRIKERS BLOW UP COAL MINE

Confess To Half Million Dollar Theft

SAVANNAH, GA., May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—John Vardaman, alias J. W. Hollis, and Bertha Fern Vardaman have made "a clean breast" of the robbery of the Chase National Bank in New York City of $500,000 in securities, according to detectives, who have been working here on the case. They added that the $30,000 worth of bonds still missing probably would be recovered within a few hours.
Ten minutes after the deputies left Pittsburg, Peterman, said over the telephone from his home in Oakmont, Pa., that the men who had attacked his place were hastening in automobiles to the mine of Joseph Schenck, half a mile away. One of the autos contained dynamite, Peterman said, and members of the crowd said they were going to "get the Schenck mine."
"These men are mad about something," added Mr. Peterman, "and I am afraid there will be more trouble. They parked their cars in front of my house and I heard them talking about what they were going to do."
Peterman said that the men had gone to his mine shortly before day-break and planting a heavy charge of dynamite in the mouth of the drift, completely destroyed it. They then disappeared, only to gather again, he said. No one was hurt by the explosion.
Sheriff Woodside refused all information concerning the explosion.
The Peterman mine ordinarily employs 25 miners, but has been closed since the strike was called.
Twelve men were brought to the county jail at noon today, having been arrested by deputy sheriffs after the Peterman coal mine in Penn township had been blown up

Chilean-Peruvian Parley Opens In Washington Next Monday; America Wants Friction Settled

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The extent to which the United States may be moved to exercise its good offices in the Chilean-Peruvian conference, which begins here next Monday, is a subject of increasing speculation in Latin-American diplomatic circles. At the state department, it was said today to be the definite policy of this government to be no more than an accommodating host to the conference, at least until the conference members formally request direct aid in composing their difficulties.

At the state department, however, talk of a possible state department observer at the secret sessions of the Chilean and Peruvian plenipotentiaries persisted, and was coupled with intimations that such participation might be requested by the two participating South American governments. It was declared officially that so far no step in that direction had been taken.

As outlined by authoritative spokesmen, the feeling of the administration of President Harding is that a settlement effected directly between Chile and Peru would be preferable in every respect to one in which the United States had a directing hand.

On the other hand, President Harding and his advisers are candidly anxious that the long debated "question of the Pacific" should be removed as a source of friction in the western hemisphere. It is known that they will be prepared to do whatever they can, do consistently to further the success of the conference plan, in its latest application to an international problem.

Defense In Remus Trial Scores Victory

CINCINNATI, O., May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The defense in the trials of George Remus and 13 others in the so-called whiskey ring cases scored a victory this morning when U. S. Judge Peck sustained a motion to declare the search warrant used when the "Death Valley" farm was raided. The attorneys for the defendants made the point that the wording in the warrant had been changed by alteration of a name by Robert E. Flora, then prohibition officer in charge at Cincinnati, and also that the charges contained were not based on known facts. Judge Peck sustained the points and immediately instructed the jury to disregard all testimony by government officials regarding the "Death Valley" farm and what they seized and saw there on October 23, 1921, the day the sensational raid and seizure were made.

Auto Bill Branded As Monstrosity

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Mills bill, designed to prevent the wholesale theft of automobiles by requiring the stamping of a federal registration number on the engine and body of each car for which the owner would pay two dollars was advocated today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Hiram Todd, United States attorney for the northern district of New York told the committee the first essential to checking the theft of cars was a means of easy identification, which could not be changed.

"The horse thief" was the menace of the cattle men of the west in the early days," said Mr. Todd, "but he ceased his depredations—why? They branded their animals so they could identify them and they strung up the thief as soon as they caught him. We can follow the excellent example of branding our cars with a permanent federal number, and although we cannot hang the auto thief we can see that severe punishment is provided by statute and imposed by the courts."

H. M. Rowe, of Baltimore, representing the American Automobile Association, declared the bill was a "monstrosity" and it was a revenue measure which ought not to be considered since owners are now paying the state and federal governments about $344,000,000 a year. Representatives Garner, Texas, and Carey, New York, Democrats, insisted the bill which Mr. Todd said would bring in $25,000,000 revenue the first year, was classed as a revenue measure, although its real purpose was to help in law enforcement.

Goes Farther

A can of Calumet Baking Powder will make more pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins, etc. than a can of most other brands.

It lasts longer—goes farther because it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength—therefore you use less.

When a recipe calls for two teaspoons of baking powder, use two level teaspoons of Calumet, the results will always be the same—perfectly raised bakings—remember this when you buy baking powder and don't forget that Calumet is the economic buy because it goes farther.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

15 Dismissed From Chillicothe Vocation School—Moonshine Cause

CHILICOTHE, O., May 12.—Officials of United States Vocational school Number 1 today announced that they would cooperate with the student council in a campaign against bootleggers and druggists who sold "moonshine" and alcohol to students.

A bottle of "alcohol rub" purchased by a school man at a Chillicothe drug store, now is being analyzed, and it found to contain more than the legal amount of alcohol, prosecutions will be instituted according to J. M. Prichard, president of the school.

President Prichard denied reports that 40 to 75 students would be expelled this week, saying the number of dismissal would not exceed 15. "We are merely performing a little tree surgery on a growing plant," he said. School officials said today that intensive action must be taken against bootleggers or they would appeal to national prohibition enforcement headquarters.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce Indignant Over Ban On Her Films Due To Mention Of "Love Affair"

NEW YORK, May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, returning today from France on the Mauretania, bubbled over with indignation when, on the trip up the harbor from Quarantine, she was shown a Washington dispatch stating that the motion picture theater owners of America had banned any films in which she might be featured, in the interest of a "clean screen."

"I haven't committed any crime," asserted the actress, whose name has been mentioned in dispatches from Paris in connection with the recent suicide there of "Billy" Erazuriz, attaché of the Chilean embassy. The Erazuriz family have indignantly denied reports that the attaché died because of unrequited love of the actress.

"I think this is outrageous," she continued, "if it has come to pass that my name is associated with men who have been charged with crimes, the day of chivalry in America is gone. I have confidence in the fair play of my American brothers and sisters and that they will give me a square deal."

Denying that she had been hurried out of France because of the Chilean's suicide, she said:

"The French police never came to see me about the suicide. The French people mind their own business and that is more than I can say about some Americans abroad."

The actress said she intended to take up the theater owners' ban with her lawyer before proceeding to Norfolk, Va. for a month's rest.

Miss Joyce's baggage was ordered detained and sent to the appraiser's store. Customs agents later subjected her to an examination, but declined to comment.

Pomerene Says Women Must Pay More For Clothes If Fordney Tariff Bill Passes Congress

COLUMBUS, O., May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—That women of America will be forced to pay one billion dollars a year more for clothing and other necessities if the Fordney Republican tariff passes in its present form was the statement made by Senator Pomerene, who addressed a luncheon of Democratic women of Ohio here today.

"This estimate was given him," he said, by experts who had figured out the increases on dutiable articles under the present tariff bill over the Underwood tariff law.

"Senator Pomerene cited the women to increases on certain articles under the Fordney bill as compared with the Underwood tariff. Duty on laces and silks," he said, were increased from 60 to 90 per cent; silk pongees averaging as high as 230 per cent; wool fabrics 35 to 74 per cent; leather gloves 14 to 37.12 per cent; cotton gloves, from 35 to more than 100 per cent; table cutlery, 33 per cent to 130 per cent; children's toys from 35 to 70 per cent and buttons 35 to 90 per cent.

Senator Pomerene denied that Democrats were filibustering on the tariff bill. "If there has been any filibustering," the Republican congressman and not the Democrats are to blame," he said.

He criticized provisions of the tariff which give to the president discretionary powers to increase tariff rates, prescribed by congress and extend embargoes on dutiables for another year if he sees fit.

"It is giving to the president a discretionary power which heretofore has been exercised by congress and will permit the president to undo what congress has done," he said.

Pomerene declared that the tariff bill would destroy our present markets and declared that "if we expect Europe to pay her debt to this country we must arrange some reasonable scheme for trading."

The senator urged women to vote in the primaries and in the election.

Sandies May Enter Democratic Race For Governor

COLUMBUS, O., May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—A. V. Donahy, New Philadelphia, former state auditor, in Columbus today, to attend a meeting of Democratic women, said he would probably file his formal declaration of candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor late today.

Commenting on the entry of T. J. Duffy, of East Liverpool, as a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination yesterday, Donahy said, "Mr. Duffy is a Democrat and has a perfect right to enter the Democratic primaries. I have the highest personal regard for him and have no objection to him or any other Democrat entering the race."

According to reports in Democratic circles today, a third man may enter the Democratic primaries soon. A. P. Sandies, of Ottawa and Columbus, former secretary of agriculture, is said to be seriously considering tossing his hat in the ring, and friends of John L. Zinnerman, of Springfield, are also urging him to become a candidate.

The men went on strike yesterday asking $4.00 a day wages against the $3.80 they now receive.

INSPECTS Y ROAD; OFFERS SUGGESTIONS

Charles Lindsey, of Columbus, who is connected with the State Highway Department, here on a visit, Thursday took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the "Y" and other roads leading from Portsmouth, and in connection with the improvement of the "Y" now in progress, the official suggested the proper way to build the roadway is to lay a six-inch concrete base, laying brick in a cushion of sand with tar filler.

He also advised that a deeper curbing be constructed so as to make a more substantial base to prevent undermining by flood waters.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duncan, of Third street, while here, returned to Columbus Friday.

What's Back Of Labor War

Denunciation By Judge

Chief Justice Kiekham Scanlan, elected on a labor platform and always a champion of unionism, sprang a surprise at about this time by making an address to the jury in open court in which he charged that the Chicago unions were controlled by ex-convicts and gun men, making conviction of some labor leaders impossible. He charged that these men in these unions have been terrorized by the gun men leaders. Judge Scanlan's charges followed acquittal of two Chicago union leaders, one of a murder charge following a killing in a saloon fight, and the other of graft and extortion charges in connection with labor troubles.

What Leaders Say

Union officials deny charges of lawlessness leveled against them. Here is what some of them say:

FRED MADER, president Building Trades Council: "The present situation is but a natural result coming from an attempt made by political and other agencies to foist the open shop on Chicago unionism. We are not the black sheep that we have been painted. We neither employ ruthless tactics to gain our ends nor do we countenance them."

"Some time ago I went to Chief Fitzmorris and told him I wanted to go through this building fight with clean hands and I have done my part. The men who committed the outrages should be arrested, tried and punished. I will do all I can to help."

"But the situation has come to such a point that whenever there is a fire, explosion or some other crime, propaganda is issued blaming labor for the deed."

"Lies," Says Murphy

"BIG TIM" MURPHY, head of the Gas House Workers and Street Cleaners' Union: "Lies, lies a mass of lies. That's what they're told about us. Chicago unionism is the same as unionism anywhere. The big fight is over the open shop which they are trying to push us into. But union men aren't running about with guns."

THOMAS WALSH, business agent for the Sheet Metal Workers: "Much of the whole situation is a clever plot, instigated by enemies of labor to supplant unionism with the open shop. It seems to be the plan to get union leaders out of the way first and with that accomplished, to make the downfall of unionism easier. Charges that we are using criminal means are lies."

Duffy Scores

governor could count on Lawrence County Republicans to support him.

In his announcement, Mr. Duffy declared that one of the important aims of the coming campaign should be the state re-organization code. He scored the present administration, the reorganization and the passing of the measure under the emergency clause.

During the present period of unemployment, "when many are in want, business men are overburdened by taxes and embarrassed through lack of trade," said Mr. Duffy's announcement, "we find those in control of the agencies of government, building and greasing their political machines," instead of giving attention to more urgent matters. Passages of the reorganization law, he said, was "a flagrant example" of such practices. Among projects advocated in the statement were:

Establishment of a more efficient safety department to prevent industrial accidents; extension of the state free employment service efforts to solve the tax problem, reduce taxes and put a check on reckless expenditure of money.

Mr. Duffy was born in England 45 years ago, was reared in Wheeling, W. Va., worked at East Liverpool as a potter and while head of the potters' national organization was appointed to the state liability board of awards in 1911. In 1913 he became a member of the state industrial commission, where he has served continuously up to the present.

Duffy States Platform

Duffy's announcement says in part: "Yielding to the urging of many leading citizens who believe that my eleven years experience in connection with the establishment and development of the workmen's compensation department could be profitably employed in dealing with other governmental problems in Ohio, I have decided to become a candidate for Governor at the Democratic primaries."

"Today in the state and nation millions are without employment. Many are in want. Business men are overburdened with taxes and embarrassed through lack of trade. In the face of these conditions, so productive of discontent and so injurious to the peace and happiness of our people we find those in control of our government wasting their time in the building and greasing of political machines, instead of giving their attention to matters that would help to put into operation the industrial and agricultural machines upon which the welfare of our people depend."

As To Reorganization

Ohio furnished a flagrant example of this in the passage and enforcement of the reorganization bill. The passage of this bill, and the things done incident thereto, lowered the governmental ideals of the state, stultified the legislature, robbed the people of their constitutional right of a referendum, smeared the judicial arm with the mire of partisan politics, scrapped the civil service law and broke down the morale of each and every department of the state government."

Duffy declared he belied the next legislature should deal with the establishment of a more efficient safety department to prevent industrial accidents; extension of the state free employment service, linked with a permanent program of public works which will provide employment and make an honest effort to solve the tax problem, reduce taxes and put a check on reckless expenditure of money and abolish useless departments and positions; improve housing conditions and other facilities which now impose hardship and injustice on many of the unfortunate wards of the state; honest enforcement of the civil service laws.

SCHOOL BOARD IN ROW OVER SHORT SKIRTS

SANTA ROSA, CAL., May 12.

(By the Associated Press)—

A controversy over whether Mrs. E. Thornberry Close, principal of the Rinjon Valley school here, should resign because she wears her hair and wears her skirts eight inches from the floor has resulted in the resignation of two of the three members of the school board of trustees.

Mrs. Thornberry Close was asked to resign, but refused until a poll of the school parents was taken. The poll sustained her 27 to 3.

Labor Leaders Indicted

Sufficient Evidence To Hang Them

"We have sufficient evidence to hang Murphy, Shea and Mader," George E. Gorman, assistant state attorney said, following announcement that indictments had been returned.

"If the same law used in the anarchist case is followed, I am convinced that we have enough evidence," Mr. Gorman said.

Witnesses before the grand jury last night included twenty policemen in addition to civilians, all guarded carefully because police feared they might come to harm if labor organizations learned who had testified. Documents seized at labor headquarters during raids made following the murders also were introduced.

No Surprise By Murphy

"Big Tim" Murphy evidenced no surprise when he was informed of the indictments.

"Anybody can be indicted," he said. "They can even indict a man for concealing ideas. That must be the charge they have against me. How can I conspire with guys I don't know anything about."

"As for the death penalty, it's been announced several times that men would hang and they are today walking the streets free men. Poor old 'Con' Shea is too old to conspire with anybody. We are as sorry for the cops as the officers."

"The whole thing is just a big splash."

"It's a shame," exclaimed Fred Mader, when informed of the indictments. It is not charged that Murphy, Mader or Shea actually shot the policemen, but that they were involved in the conspiracy which led to the killings through a recent series of bombings and beatings.

The Sunday School Lesson

EMERSON LEADS HIS PEOPLE TO GOD
REV. FREEMAN W. CHASE

In chapter 29 a graphic account of the cleansing of the temple is given. This (chapter 30) the story of the great Jewish passover festival, re-enacted by King Hezekiah, is told with enthusiastic description. It is the coronation year of the king, 715 B. C. His father Ahaz had "made altars in every corner of Jerusalem" (2 Chron. 28:24). Hezekiah as a reforming king began his reign by cleansing the temple and removing all those heathen altars (V. 14). The king invites to the great festival not only his own people of Judah, but also all the northern Israelites who had survived the Assyrian invasion (721 B. C.). As far as known the priests were not consulted regarding the time or proportions of this popular assembly. This suggests, as Professor Bennett has well said, "in such emergencies it is not necessary to wait for the initiative or even the sanction of ecclesiastical officials; the supreme authority in the church in all its great crises resides in the whole body of believers." The king's message of invitation reminded the people of Jehovah's compassion and also the necessity of their repentance. Some humbly accepted, some mocked. These keynotes of the lesson are not without practical suggestions for modern Christendom. Let us take notice briefly of the foregoing and other important truths herein presented: (1) The mercy of God, or the vicarious effects of goodness (see 30:9); (2) The right of a religious body to take an important step forward independent of "the initiative or even sanction of ecclesiastical officials." In a situation urgent for prompt and wise action, Hezekiah had the grace and the wisdom to disregard old, stereotyped, traditional methods and in so doing surely brought the whole nation to speedy success and blessing. Two of the other outstanding truths seem paradoxical: (3) The importance, and (4) the unimportance of ritual; (5) The whole passage glows with a sense of the value of well ordered worship. There must be some forms or rules that govern all worship. Members should conform to that which is the common usage of the assembly with which they are identified, generally speaking; (6) But to the spirit of true worship nothing could be more fatal than a cast-iron insistence upon conformity to an external ceremony. Technical irregularities are justifiable when occasion demands. They may be even necessary for the promotion of the spirit of true worship. Hear Hezekiah in his prayer, one of the most generous and beautiful prayers in the whole Bible: "May Jehovah the good pardon every one that setteth his heart to seek God, though he be not cleansed according to the purification of the sanctuary." It is upon the heart that God looks. It is the worshipful heart, not punctilious compliance with conventional custom, that makes for real devotion. (7) The place of music in public worship is referred to again and again. The Chronicler dwells with frequency and delight upon this important item. The effect of music on the spirit of the devout worshipper is at once the expression of and a stimulus to devotion. (Ps. 98:4-6.)

And they worship with prayer and sacrifice and song for an additional week (verses 22-27).

MERCY HOSPITAL DRIVE AN ASSURED SUCCESS

Campaign Will Start May 22; Captains Selected At Meeting

That the drive for $200,000 for the erection of a new Mercy Hospital and the building of a School for Trained Nurses, which is to be conducted among the people of Portsmouth and Seacoast county, will be a signal success, was practically assured, Thursday evening, when more than seven-hundred of Portsmouth's representative citizens pledged their allegiance to the campaign at the United Brethren church. Those in charge of the campaign, which will be directed by an expert, Mr. Grant B. Whitlar, a native of Youngstown, O., were more than gratified at the spirit and enthusiasm shown at the meeting. The men, representing every walk of life, were a unit in pledging their time and money in making the drive the success hoped for. Mr. Whitlar, who has been engaged in more than three hundred similar campaigns, stated that in all his experience he had never seen a better attended meeting, nor had he ever witnessed more zeal and enthusiasm.

Mr. Harold Opens Meeting

Postmaster Vallee Harold acted as temporary chairman of the meeting, and made the principal address of the evening. The question of a new Mercy Hospital is one that has been on the heart of Mr. Harold, and he grew eloquent at times in his talk, despite the fact that he did not attempt in any way to color facts. He said in part: "I know of no work that could so well secure your attention as the erection of a new Mercy hospital—which has no nobly and so well administered to the sick and cared for those in physical distress. The present hospital was erected without appreciating the needs of Portsmouth. It was built without calling on the citizens in general for financial assistance. It was started in a modest way and cost in the neighborhood of sixty to seventy thousand dollars. Within six months it had outgrown its facilities. Patients have been received from eight or ten counties and from three different states. It is overcrowded. This will prove to you, the need of greater hospital facilities. Mercy hospital can well commend itself to your greatest liberality, because it has justified its work in its name. It has dispensed mercy and charity to about 28 percent of its patients. It is small, but it has always administered to God's poor, and such work must commend it to the generous heart of Portsmouth."

"No man is excluded because of race, color, religion, or because a patient may demand any physician. Mercy hospital has a medical staff, but I want to say emphatically, that no reputable physician is excluded from practicing at Mercy hospital. There are patients in Mercy hospital today who are being treated by physicians other than those comprising the staff of physicians—by physicians who are in no way connected with Mercy hospital. Like all well regulated and successfully conducted hospitals, Mercy hospital has certain rules of procedure, but in no wise are they different from others. "Mercy hospital was started without the proper grasp of the future. I believe in Portsmouth. There isn't a thing for the betterment of Portsmouth but what I favor unconditionally. We are growing, this fair city of ours, and with greater development, we will have need of greater hospital facilities—one of the real reasons why this campaign will be launched."

Mr. Reed Thanks Committee

At the conclusion of Mr. Harold's address, he introduced Edward T. Reed, the general chairman of the campaign. Mr. Reed, who has proven himself by his works on many occasions, thanked the committee for the honor of directing the campaign—a work he felt, that will result triumphantly and prove again to the world that Portsmouth never slacks when called upon for contributions that have for their object the alleviating of suffering humanity. "It will be a pleasant duty for me to do the very best I can to make the campaign a wholehearted success," said Chairman Reed.

Has Done Noble Work

Dr. S. D. Ruggles said that Mercy hospital had done a noble work. "Service is the watchword at Mercy hospital," said Dr. Ruggles. "It's a twenty-four hours per day and seven days per week work at that institution. The city needs more hospitals—for the capacity of all similar institutions is very limited. A hospital is not for doctors, but a place where service can be rendered. We would be in a dire calamity were we overtaken with an epidemic. I heartily endorse the erection of a new Mercy hospital."

Mr. Labold Speaks

Mr. Simon Labold, who has been named as treasurer of the campaign, stated that he was not gifted when it came to making speeches, and then proceeded to make a talk that was received with glad acclaim by all present. He said "there have been a good many movements successfully conducted in Portsmouth, but I believe I can say in all sincerity that this one—the campaign for raising money to erect a new Mercy hospital is the most important one ever launched in this city. It will do more good than any other institution—in that it will aid in relief to the sick and comfort and succor those who may need the services of such an institution. It is not to be operated for profit—those good nurses are working for the benefit of humanity. I believe we can raise the money, because of the great good the hospital would be enabled to do."

Mr. Appel Heartily Endorses

Prof. Frank Appel, superintendent of schools, gave his heartiest endorsement to the proposition. And he put forth an argument that had not been touched upon. He stated that practically thirty years of his life had been spent in developing the intellectual side of life, but that the people had now come to regard the physical side of life as equally important as the intellectual side—one was dependent upon the other. Prof. Appel said that he was in favor of any proposition that looked to the development of physical nature, because there was a physical basis upon which depended in a large measure the intellectual development. There are not more than two percent of children who should be forced to repeat in their grades—but at present statistics prove that from 12 to 15 percent of pupils are compelled to repeat their grades—due in a large measure to physical causes. "I heartily favor the building of the new hospital," said Mr. Appel as he took his seat.

George D. Selby, who occupied a seat of honor, said: "There are two hospital propositions before the public and I favor them both. There should be a hospital and for at least every 300 people, scientists tell us. With the 70 to 75 beds, the new Mercy hospital would give, and the 50 beds at the Dr. Schirman hospital, added to the 75 beds the addition to Hemptead hospital would give, would make but 215 beds or 35 less than the city requires at the present day. I can look back to the days of 1864-65 when I was serving in the army, and recall the many kind acts of the Sisters of Mercy—and since that time they have always been in the forefront when it came to offering aid and comfort to the sick and suffering. I am going to contribute to the Mercy hospital fund because we need the institution. We must all get under and lift upward when it comes to helping humanity. What I give will be because I want to help others. I am in favor of all hospital facilities now proposed."

Mr. Whitlar Takes Charge

At this point, Chairman Reed turned the meeting over to Mr. Whitlar, who called upon Davidson's orchestra to lead the assemblage through several stirring songs—and the men sang with a vim that meant business. Mr. Whitlar stated that the campaign would be a success, after complimenting the spirit shown by those in attendance. He stated that as soon as $200,000 were turned over and a new Mercy Hospital erected, the Sisters of St. Francis would immediately borrow that much or more and build an addition that would mean Portsmouth would have one of the finest and best equipped and best managed institutions of its kind in the country. "That is the way the Sisters of St. Francis do things," said the speaker. The Sisters work for $90 per year—their work is a labor of love. Already," Mr. Whitlar continued, "$26,000 had been subscribed, something he had never before seen in a drive of this kind, but which portends its ultimate success."

Campaign Starts May 22
Mr. Whitlar then stated that the real drive for funds would start the week of May 22. A banquet for workers will be held at the United Brethren church at 5:45 p. m., and thereafter, every day for a week, noon-day luncheons will be served at the church, at which times reports by the teams would be received. A big 30 foot score board will be erected on Government square and records made thereon from time to time. Banners will be hung from trolley wires—banners will be strung on street cars, with truth driving slogans flung litho and you. A parade is to be held on Tuesday noon, and this promises to be one of the real features of the campaign.

Select Team Captains
The following team captains were then named. However, Chairman Reed refused to allow any captain to be elected who was not present, or unless he had given the authority that his name be considered. The team captains are as follows: Henry Bertram, Fred N. Tyne, Samuel Horchow, Alex M. Glickner, Arthur Hodge, George E. Kricker, Charles D. Scudder, James S. Distel, Dr. S. D. Ruggles, Chris Hoer, J. H. Goodman, George Goodman, B. H. Dillon, Edward Appel, Frank Stanton, W. J. Burke, and Salem P. Shaw.

Mrs. Gilbert Waite Heads Missionary Society; Jackson Gets Next Meeting

Jackson was selected as the place for next year's meeting and Mrs. Gilbert D. Waite of this city, who was corresponding secretary, was elected president at the Thursday afternoon session of the Portsmouth District Women's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church at Franklin avenue church.

The election of Mrs. Waite followed the resignation of Mrs. Howard Sellards, who was president of the organization the past year. The meeting came to a close last night with a well arranged program given before a large audience.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Elmer Tracy of Franklin Avenue church had charge of the devotion. Miss Winnie Stewart of Manly church, district secretary of Young People's work, gave a report on work undertaken and accomplished by the Young People's organization the past year. A vocal duet by Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Severinghaus was followed by a talk by Mrs. Daisy McLain Bulker, National Field Secretary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church. Her headquarters are in Camden, South Carolina. She told of the work of the Society among the mountain folks and colored peoples of the South. This was a general talk dealing with the Missionary Homes established in various sections of the South for the help of these peoples. Miss Anna Jenkins of this city who is doing home missionary work in the hills of Pike county gave a talk on the progress of her home visitation work which is steadily bearing fruit. Mrs. Austin Chestnut gave a reading followed by a talk by Mrs. A. C. Luty, conference corresponding secretary of Zanesville. Mrs. Herbert Boring of this city had charge of a memorial service in tribute of the members who had died during the past year. This service consisted of the reading of the names of the deceased, a special scripture lesson and songs. The various committees on nominations, resolutions and place then reported. The election of officers followed and resulted in the following being chosen for next year:

President—Mrs. G. D. Waite.
First vice president—Mrs. Howard Sellards.
Second vice president—Mrs. C. C. Davidson, Irouton.
Third vice president—Mrs. J. I. Lee, Wheelersburg.
Corresponding secretary—Mrs. W. E. Mann, Trinity.
Recording secretary—Mrs. Philip Pfarr.
Treasurer—Mrs. Irene Delay, Jackson.

Young People's secretary—Miss Winnie Stewart.
Program secretary—Mrs. H. A. Bedell, Jackson.
Christian Stewardship—Mrs. John Randolph Williams.
Evangelism—Mrs. Harry Blazer.
Temperance—Mrs. C. C. Coverston.
Literature—Mrs. A. M. Reiser.
Mite box—Mrs. Ben Stewart.

As a token of their appreciation for her years of faithful service, the women of Franklin Avenue Church presented Mrs. Sellards with a beautiful gift basket of roses and other spring flowers. Before adjournment Jackson, Ohio was chosen as the place for the 1923 meeting.

The final session started at 7:15 o'clock with the devotion in charge of Rev. Severinghaus. A chorus number by the Junior choir of Franklin Avenue M. E. church was followed by a talk by Miss Winnie Stewart who gave a general talk on Young People's work in Portsmouth District. Her remarks were directed to the young people who were in attendance. Miss Stewart explaining how the Young People's organization carried on missionary work.

A pageant, "A Visit from the Home Missionary Family," given by the Queen Esther of Franklin Avenue church. Mrs. Phillip Pfarr directed the well arranged pageant which was very appropriate for the occasion.

A vocal duet by Miss Bertha Griver and Leslie Severinghaus was followed by a talk by Mrs. Bulker who gave a general talk on the missionary work among the young people of the South. In her remarks she told how the home missionary workers were improving the lives of the younger people of the mountain regions and big colored settlements in the South. Out-of-town delegates expressed appreciation of the welcome tendered them by the women from Trinity, Manly, Bigelow and Franklin Avenue Churches yesterday, and stated that they gained a great amount of inspiration from the talks, devotions, and instructions.

May Adopt New Plan In Street Paving

Mayor W. N. Gableman, Safety and Service Directors Si Straus and William Gergens and the latter's assistant, James Foley, returned Thursday night from Jackson, where they spent the day inspecting a new system of street paving in that city under which the brick are laid flat and a new kind of filler used. The new plan is said to be a big success and may be used in street improvements contemplated in this city.

"REB" RUSSELL IS REAL COMEBACK

CHICAGO, May 12 (By the Associated Press).—They never come back every baseball follower has heard that phrase from the time he first peeked through a knothole in a ball park fence—but there are exceptions to the only adage, and "Reb" Russell, of the Minneapolis American Association, may prove the most notable by coming back to the majors after not only having been discarded by the big leagues, but once apparently falling even in the minors.

Not only that, but if "Reb" does prove to be one of the rare exceptions, he will be the highest priced and the most unusual come-back in baseball. Pittsburgh is reported to have offered $20,000 for this player, who was discarded after a long period as a star pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, but it is because "Reb" is a slugging outfielder and not because of any recovered pitching cunning that the Pirates are said to be willing to invest this sum.

Russell helped the Sox win the pennant in 1917. Then his arm went bad. The next season he was valueless. In the spring of 1919 he was shipped to Minneapolis and the wise-aces shook their heads and opined that Russell was through.

They were partly right. "Reb" pitched in only one game for Minneapolis in 1919, winning it, but proving conclusively that he was through as a pitcher.

The big southpaw went to the team's manager.

"I can hit and I can field pretty good. I can't pitch, but I'm not out of the game yet."

Russell's request was granted. He began slugging the ball, acquiring a reputation as a long distance hitter, although not amassing a big average. He hit for .267 that year. In 1920 he was second in the league among players in 75 or more games, batting for an average of .330. There was no question now that "Reb" had made good as an outfielder, but he was not satisfied. He wanted to be a star again. In 1921 "Reb" came into his own as an outfielder. He again ranked second among the hitters, with a .368 average, and poked 33 home runs. So while a school boy probably could hit "Reb" as a pitcher, the best hurlers in the league can't stop him as a hitter and that's why the majors talk about wanting him again.

Kellogg's Bran means so much to the health of every one who eats it!

Start eating Bran today! You can't afford the delay of a day—for BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is nature's own remedy for constipation. Eliminate constipation or its symptoms from your system and you add years to your life. Free yourself of this distressing condition! Authorities state that 90% of human illness has its beginning with constipation, which clogs the eliminative passages, backing up poisons and creating toxic conditions. At this stage the blood becomes affected and then follows the disorder of various organs. Bright's disease, diabetes, most cases of rheumatism, hardening of arteries, headache, brain fog, etc., are directly caused by intestinal poisoning. Piles and catarrhs can give no adequate relief. They are not only temporary in their effect, but tend to aggravate already dangerous conditions. Kellogg's Bran causes neither discomfort nor irritation, and its action is absolutely positive. Bran sweeps and cleanses and purifies! Its work is wonderful!

Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it relieves constipation, naturally. Eat Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonsful daily; in chronic cases with each meal—as a cereal, sprinkled on other cereals, or in many other appetizing ways such as in raisin bread, gump, pastiches, macaroons, etc. Recipes on every box. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled! Start with Kellogg's Bran today.

P. S.—Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly, will clear up a pimply complexion and overcome an obnoxious breath.

WILLARD NOT AFTER RETURN MATCH

LOS ANGELES, May 12.—Jess Willard, heavyweight boxer, mentioned in recent dispatches as a possible opponent for Jack Dempsey, is not seeking a return match with the world's champion, according to a statement attributed to Willard today by a local newspaper.

Willard, who won the championship from Jack Johnson and lost it to Dempsey, arrived here some time yesterday, but secluded himself. The newspaper story quotes Willard as having said that his private business was keeping him on the jump and that he did not have time to give the ring game serious thought.

Will Show Pictures Of Culver School

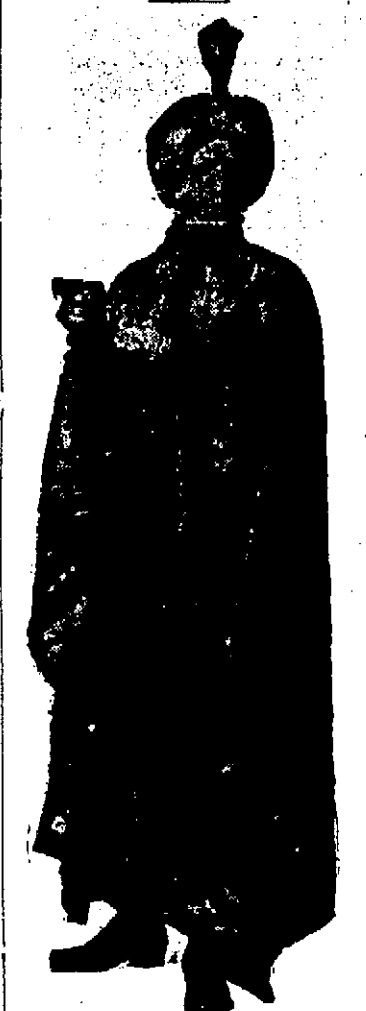

At the Sun Theater on the evening of Tuesday, May 16th, the Culver Alumni of Portsmouth will present a motion picture program showing the R. O. T. C. training and other special features of the work of the corps of cadets of Culver Military Academy. The entertainment is for the alumni and their friends. Scenes of boy life in the summer schools, where the organized vacation has made play more than idle amusement, will be shown in two of the reels, which are devoted to the activities of the Woodcraft school, and the naval, artillery, and cavalry summer schools. The boy scouts have been invited to attend as special guests to witness the scenes of camp life and the work of the woodcrafters in the field and on the trail. The program will be opened at 8:15 p. m. with a short talk by Col. H. F. Noble, of the Culver faculty. He will discuss "Military Training in Education."

Motion pictures which give an intimate insight into a special system of boys' training are to be shown by the Culver Alumni Club of Portsmouth. The feats of riding and horsemanship and other specialties by the Culver cadets contribute many genuine thrills to the films.

THE GREAT KARA COMING SOON

MYSTERY MAN TO BE ATTRACTION AT THE COLUMBIA FOR ONE WEEK

Kara the mystery man and his show of wonders open an engagement at the Columbia theatre for one week, commencing next Monday and special matinees for ladies only on Wednesday and Friday. In a night in the Orient he will offer for the first time in this country a series of magical feats that he recently secured while in Cairo, Egypt, all of these bewildering and finding a ready place in the extensive repertoire of legendum. For many years Kara has made it a rule to obtain only the best magic and this year his efforts have been more than successful. In Kara's performance appear many treats. There will be songs and dances by the girls of the temple, in the wonderful harem scene. The famous Babylon scene has established Kara as the greatest seer the world has ever known. Many private exhibitions have been given before committees from psychic clubs from all over the world, causing the learned members much surprise and mystification at his wonderful demonstrations of through projection. During Kara's stay in Portsmouth he will answer any and all questions that may be offered him. The questioners may write their questions at home or in the theatre and Kara will give a correct answer without seeing them. During Kara's engagement in this city he will give special matinees for ladies only on Wednesday and Friday. The object of these matinees is to give the ladies a chance to ask Kara private or personal questions they would feel embarrassed to ask in a mixed audience.

Why Discourage 'Em at Start? Also it may be well to remind this year's college graduates that the talent the world most appreciates is the talent for work. Dallas News.

Indiana Lady Prefers Black-Draught for Constipation, and Tells How It Gladly Benefitted Her.

Scottsburg, Ind.—Mrs. Annie Johnson, of this place, said: "I suffered for a long time with constipation, which would get me down. I took medicines and any number of purgatives. They would leave me in a worse condition than I was before taking, and my stomach so upset. 'I know once I suffered from constipation, so I... just so nervous and feverish...'"

"My husband was reading and found something about Black-Draught, and brought me a package to try. I used it regularly at first until I began to feel better, then I just used a dose occasionally. 'I was cured of this constipation and am sure the Black-Draught did it.'"

Mrs. Johnson later wrote: "My present health is very good. I still keep Black-Draught in my house, all the time, as it does me more good than anything I have ever used." Constipation is often a sign that your liver is out of order and needs help. The poisons which constipation forces your system to re-absorb may cause much danger to your general health.

Thedford's Black-Draught is a medicine that every person should keep in the house, and use at the least sign of constipation, indigestion and liver trouble.

Twenty-four Years Ago

The American fleet in command of Admiral George Dewey licked the socks off the Spanish fleet in the first clash of the war on the water. The Americans won a glorious victory, the fight taking place in Manila Harbor, and the U. S. vessels came out of the conflict undefeated and without losing a single man. Only a few Americans were injured.

On the recommendation of President McKinley, congress passed a resolution (thanking Commodore Dewey and his command for their splendid achievement at Manila) and passed a bill creating the additional office of rear admiral for the purpose of allowing the President to elevate Dewey to that rank. Ten thousand dollars was also voted and the President was authorized to present a sword to Dewey and medals to his men.

John M. Davis died at his home, 91 East Front street. He was born in this city, being a son of Morgan Davis, pioneer of Portsmouth, on Feb. 27, 1851, consequently he was 47 years of age at the time of his demise.

Rev. Thomas Robbent, of the Sixth Street M. E. church delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the High School.

Twenty of the leading ladies of Chillicothe formed an organization which they called the "Street Cleaning Society," and through which they proposed to keep the streets of that town clean.

The Cemetery Trustees met and organized by electing John O'Connor, president; H. S. Grimes, treasurer; James P. Jack, secretary; and W. H. H. Montgomery, superintendent. Capt. Creed Milstead left for New York to purchase new goods.

Have White, Radiant Teeth That Will Compel Unstinted Admiration

Don't neglect your gums whatever else you do or you'll be sorry later on. Keep them strong, sturdy and full of life. Bear in mind that a healthy plant won't grow in foul soil. Neither will unhealthy gums produce good teeth.

Your dentist is one of your best friends—don't forget that—see him often—many thousands of men and women are enjoying health today because of the dentist's knowledge and skill. You can have white teeth so radiantly clean and fascinating and so free from film or coating that they will compel unstinted admiration. You can have firm, healthy gums with no taint of disease if you will only visit your dentist occasionally and use Senreco toothpaste night and morning.

Senreco is a dentist's formula, a combination so perfect that, besides being the finest cleanser of teeth, and the most effective of dentifrices, is an active enemy of the vicious germs of pyorrhea—that all too common and abhorrent disease that attacks the gums and causes them to bleed, recede and grow soft, tender and spongy.

Get a tube of Senreco today—the good results will astonish you—in just a few days your teeth will radiate purity. Stick to Senreco and your teeth will stick to you. — Advertisement.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 12.—Steel shares were the central features at the opening of today's stock market. The proposed merger of the Bethlehem and Lackawanna companies overshadowed all other developments in point of interest and speculative importance. Lackawanna opened with a single offering of 4,000 shares at 73 1/4, followed by 300 shares at 74, and 100 shares at 75, an overnight advance of 9 1/4 points. Bethlehem Steel rose only half a point and other issues of that division were irregular. Mulvale Steel, which figures prominently in the prospective merger of half a dozen companies, was distinctly heavy, soon losing 1 1/2 points. Pierce-Arrow also reacted one point on an announcement that the merger with LaFayette was off. The general list, especially oils and equipments, showed a firm to strong tone. General Electric rose 1 1/2 points and General Motors 1 1/4 points. American Locomotive, which was the strongest feature, gained 1 1/2 points. Lackawanna Steel reacted two points from its high soon after the opening. Lackawanna's early reaction of 3 1/2 points was accompanied by losses of 1 1/2 to almost 2 points in Republic, Republic and Vanadium. Pierce-Arrow preferred extended its loss to 4 points, the common dropping 2 points. Standard Oil of New York and Standard Oil of Indiana, Standard Oil of California, New York Central, Utah Copper and Virginia Carolina Chemical, which had been the other heavy shares of the first hour, posting of the 3 1/2 per cent opening and renewal rate for call money occasioned another brisk advance in the independent stocks. Lackawanna rebounded to 77 1/2, an extreme rise of 12 points. Bethlehem Steel gained 3 1/2 points. Republic, Gulf States and Republic were 1 to 3 points higher. Pullman gained 3 points and to-holes featured the stronger specialties. Independent steels at gains of 3 to 12 points were the outstanding features of today's active stock market as a result of the prospective Bethlehem-Lackawanna merger. Equipments and kindred issues also strengthened. Sales approximated 1,200,000 shares. The closing was strong.

Chicago Grain And Provisions

CHICAGO, May 12.—Aggressive action on the part of bulls forced a new upturn in wheat prices today during the early dealings. Brokers identified with the leading interests of the bull side bought 100,000 bushels of the nearest market opened and other liberal orders to purchase were also quickly filled. Meanwhile, however, the opposing element had delivered more than half a million bushels. Many contracts and today's receipts here were announced as amounting to 240 carloads, the general total under such circumstances, the upward swing of the market was soon checked and something of a reaction ensued. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/4 higher, with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, was followed by a rise of 1 1/2 for May and with lesser gains for July and September.

to 1/4 higher, with July 1 1/4 to 1 1/2, the corn market sagged 1/4, but then scored slight general gains. Oats started unchanged, to 1/4 higher, July 40 1/2, and later went a little higher all around.

Provisions responded to the upward tendency of grain. Slowness of domestic shipping demand had a depressing influence later. The week, 10c@1 1/2c to 1 1/2c net lower, with July 64 1/2@65.

METEOR STRIKES IN VIRGINIA

NORFOLK, Va., May 12.—The meteor, which flashed across the sky of Virginia last night and rocked homes in half a dozen cities by the shock of its landing was found today 12 miles northwest of Blackstone, in Nottoway county. Striking in a grove of oak trees, the meteor made a depression in the earth which measured more than 500 square feet in area. Several trees were buried beneath the falling body in this hole. The meteor apparently was composed of some metallic substance. Residents in the vicinity said there was a terrific detonation when the object, which apparently weighed as much as twenty tons, hit the earth. When the meteor struck the earth it was said a sheet of flames was sent up which was plainly visible for miles around. Several trees were set on fire.

Horseshoe Pitchers Start Monday

The horseshoe season will be formally opened Monday night at 5:30 p. m. at the Children's Home Park, when President Edw. Brady calls "Pitch!" and the shoes fly through the air. This first tournament is a four-man team affair, and will take about a month to run off. At the conclusion, some other form of a tournament will be run off to decide the doubles championship of the city. Several teams are entered, but as the entries do not close till tonight, it is impossible to say just how many teams will be in the contest. The Iron Men are entered, Higgins being in the place of Kline, who will be the manager of the Campbell Avenue team. Trinity is entering two teams. The York Parks will present a very strong line up, and appear to be the best bet for the pennant. Norman Kitchen will pilot the Hilltop Eagles and will have strong backing. The schedule, together with the names of the players entering will be published in Sunday's paper. Entries will be held open till ten o'clock tonight, and can be made by calling on the secretary, Edw. S. Gillilan.

Operate Gaming Devices At Fair; Fined

Following complaints that the men were operating games of chance, New Boston officers last night arrested men giving the names of Fred Newman, Orville Newson and Charles Grassman, who were found with the Miller Carnival Company in Peabody addition, in the west end of New Boston. Newman and Newson were charged with operating a pocketbook dollar bill game entitled "1 for a dime; if you miss $2 the next time." They were given an immediate hearing and were fined $10 and costs. Grassman was arrested on complaint of a woman who claimed the man tried to short-change her. She gave the name of July Rolands of Portsmouth and claimed the man got $50.40 of her money. Grassman paid back the money and was dismissed with a warning to conduct his business on the square. Mayor William Newberry told the officers to keep close watch on the street fair operators and to bring in all violators. "Grassman is a stranger in these parts."

(Continued from Page One) and a demonstration made against the Schenck mine nearby. The Peterman mine had not been operating since the strike was called, but the Schenck pit has continued to work. Steel Merger

(Continued from Page One) only stocks in addition to the Lackawanna which were included in the proposed merger of seven independent steel companies and traded in on the big board, also showed substantial gains, Republic showing a net gain of three points and Midvale of 1 1/4. Thomas J. Chadbourne, who has been handling the legal affairs in connection with the proposed merger of seven independent companies, declared that the withdrawal of the Lackawanna Company would not cause an abandonment of the plans, which would be conducted on a six-company basis. News of the Bethlehem-Lackawanna merger came as a great surprise, not only to the financial district in general, but to the executives of the independent steel companies. While these executives were frankly informed some time ago that the Lackawanna Company was negotiating with the Bethlehem Corporation, they did not realize that the deal was so near consummation and hoped to induce the Lackawanna to accept their terms.

Alienists Disagree On Moffet's Sanity

COLUMBUS, O., May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Alienists are at odds on the question of the sanity of Edward Moffet, Akron wife murderer, under sentence to die in the electric chair at the Ohio penitentiary May 23. Moffet was examined for the third time yesterday. According to Dr. S. Bell Bowman, of Akron, Moffet is sane. In the opinion of Drs. E. M. Baehr, W. H. Trubard and H. H. Goddard, all connected with state institutions, he is insane. Prosecutor Arthur Doyle, of Summit county, believes Moffet is a clever shammer. Governor Davis today had not announced what course he may pursue in Moffet's case. It was pointed out that he might allow the execution to take place, grant a reprieve or commit him to the Lima State Hospital.

A Modern Little Lord Fauntleroy's Fight for Millions

Why England's Greatest Will Contest May Determine That the Boy Earl of Shrewsbury Was Disinherited Because His Mother Wed an American.

"Alton Towers," the Historic Castle of the Famous Shrewsbury Estate.

A SEVEN-YEAR-OLD BOY has challenged the mightiest barristers in England in a fight for lands, castles and money that he considers his own by right of heritage. The fight is described as an action to set aside the will of the late Earl of Shrewsbury, and the plaintiff is his grandson, the frail, comely infant who now bears the Shrewsbury title.

This spectacle has captured the interest of all England; each new twist in the litigation is being closely followed. This interest has been brought about not only by the ingratiating personality of the young Earl himself but because the trial promises to develop many sensational details of the late Earl's somewhat picturesque home life.

Persons familiar with Frances Hodgson Burnett's celebrated story have been calling the tiny nobleman the "Modern Little Lord Fauntleroy." This description was suggested by the similarity of situation as well as the personal likeness that the Earl bears to the fictional character. In Mrs. Burnett's story Lord Fauntleroy, the son of an American mother and an English father, found his title being challenged by an impostor. Meanwhile, the old Earl, his grandfather, despite the fact that he hated everything American, had been completely charmed by the little lord.

The late Earl of Shrewsbury was similarly charmed by his grandson, the present litigant. But when he died his estate was left, not to him, but to a woman not related to him, a Miss Eleanor Whyte Hughes Brownlee, who has been named residuary legatee. The estate is valued at more than a million and a quarter dollars.

From certain quarters has come the suggestion that the late Earl felt aggrieved at his daughter-in-law for marrying Richard Pennoyer, an American, following the death in France of her husband, the Earl's son, who was killed in action. This, they say, may have influenced him to cut her son out of the will. This story is not generally credited in England.

Charges Undue Influence

The young Earl, moreover, is charging in his suit that his grandfather was not of sound mind when he made his will and that undue influence was brought to bear upon him by Miss Brownlee. The exact relationship of Miss Brownlee to the Earl will be brought out, it is expected, at the trial. The details surrounding the Earl's separation from his wife will also be given an airing. And though the British peerage pretends not to relish such a highly seasoned morsel, this litigation has created more interest than any similar action brought within the last two years.

Though the ancestors of the Earl of Shrewsbury were given more to settling their differences with battle-axes than by legal disputation, they always got action in one way or another.

The line goes back to 1442 and the men who have borne the Shrewsbury title have been among the greatest fighting men of England. One Earl had the record of participating in more than forty victorious battles. Another, Sir Gilbert Talbot, before the formal history of the family begins, was Lord Chamberlain to King Edward III. Later on, an Earl of Shrewsbury was asked to act as the jailer of Mary Queen of Scots, and to the 12th Earl of Shrewsbury the reigning House of Windsor owes, according to history, its present possession of the British throne. It was to this Earl that Queen Anne, on her deathbed, committed the staff of Lord High Steward of the Realm, and he used his position, as soon as she breathed her last, to proclaim her cousin, the Sovereign Elector of Hanover, as King of Great Britain and Ireland, under the style of George I. He thereby secured the succession of the House of Hanover—now Windsor—to the British throne and frustrated the projected attempt of the exiled family of Stuart to recover the crown.

The family estate, for the most part, surrounds the historic home of the Shrewsburies in Staffordshire, known as Alton Towers. Kings and Queens have been entertained there and the mightiest in the realm have been proud to be numbered among the Earl of Shrewsbury's guests.

Some idea of this vast estate, to most of which the seven-year-old Earl of Shrewsbury aspires, may be gained from a statement made by the Earl during a court proceeding some years ago when his wife, from whom he had been separated, sued him for her allowance of £4000 a year. It appeared that the countess told the court that she and her daughter were not made welcome when they visited the Towers, that the servants were unwilling to wait on her, and that her daughter, Lady Violet, had been compelled to go into the garden and dig potatoes for food.

The Earl denied this was necessary and said there were plenty of servants to wait upon her. When asked what accommodations were put at her disposal, he replied that she had the use of about forty-five of the hundred rooms in Alton Towers, the historic castle of the Earl.

This was not the only time the Earl and his wife were in the courts. Their connubial life, from the time they eloped and were married, appears to have been one continuous wrangle. After they had been separated various actions were brought by the countess. At one time she was asking that the Earl be restrained from selling the family plate, at another she demanded that the Earl be required to keep up "Her Ladyship's garden," presumably where the potatoes Lady Violet dug, were planted; at still another she alleged that the Earl had failed to pay the income tax on her allowance.

They were separated in 1896. Sometime later, Miss Brownlee, the defendant in the present litigation, came into the Earl's life. She is described as a beautiful blonde who, like the Earl, was interested in sporting events. Being a frequent race-course where the Earl was an enthusiastic spectator and exhibitor, she got to know him rather well. When they were seen together the event was laid to a common interest in sport.

The Earl's interest in sporting events, however, was not confined to the track. He was extremely fond of every sort of sporting activity that involved horses. He allowed this interest to invade his business.

Being the first man in London to own a hansom cab he decided that he would be the first to commercialize cab service. So great was his enthusiasm for the hansom that he endeavored to run a de luxe service in London and Paris.

His cabs were luxuriously appointed and much sought after. They were the first rubber-tired ones seen in London and were the speediest and most comfortable vehicles of their time.

There was no mistaking the Earl's cabs. They bore the imprint of the peerage in the shape of the linked letters, "S. and T.," standing for "Shrewsbury and Talbot," painted on the sides. The reins were supported by metal work arranged in the form of a coronet and the "cabbies" always wore top-hats and heavy box-cloth coats. When his smart drivers struck for higher pay, however, their noble proprietor got sick of the whole business, closed it down and went in for the newer enterprise of motor cars.

The late Earl also had a passion for coach driving, and for several seasons he ran the Greyhound coach, daily from Buxton to Alton Towers.

When the Earl and Miss Brownlee were seen together, as they frequently were, the event was laid to a common interest in sports.

First Husband a War Hero

When the Earl's son, Viscount Ingestre, was killed in battle in 1915, it was naturally supposed that the viscount's son, the Earl's grandson, would become his heir. The surprise was widespread, therefore, when at the old Earl's death, Miss Brownlee was named as residuary legatee, which means that when all expenses are paid off, she gets the bulk of the estate.

Meanwhile Viscount Ingestre's widow married Mr. Pennoyer, who is from Oakland, California, and the nephew of Gov. Sylvester Pennoyer of Oregon. At the time of the marriage Mr. Pennoyer was a member of the American embassy staff in London. Since then he has been connected with the American embassy in Lisbon, and at present is secretary of the American embassy in Berlin.

The infant Earl likes his stepfather, but for the purpose of his suit has been staying part of his time in England with his guardian, the Marquis of Anglesey. His valiant fight for the millions of his grandfather makes him the most interesting infant in England.

Just Why Flowers Face the Sun

EVERYONE is familiar with the legend of the sunflower—how it turns its yellow face toward the sun. Perchance it was the look of the flower which suggested the story, but, curious as the tale may be, the presumed habit of the flower finds many a parallel in the vegetable world. There is a scientific term, "heliotropism," which means turning toward the sun (or light), and this term is, nowadays, used by botanists to indicate a very real and interesting habit of plant life. It was from this characteristic that the heliotrope is so called, as its name is derived from two Greek words that mean "turning to the sun."

The sunflower rotates with the sun, it is true, and in so doing obeys what is really a primary law of vegetable existence. For ordinary observation will show that most plants bend to the light if they are placed, say, in a room whereof one aspect is dark and the other open and bright. At the foundation of a plant's relations to light, to heat, or by any of the other conditions of its life, there lies, of course, the fact that it contains living matter or protoplasm. Plants are often regarded as purely vegetative and half-living things, so to speak, but science shows that plants form one of the two great living divisions of the world, and that they rank equally with animals in at least possessing the matter of life. This habit of turning to the light, then, may be regarded as truly a part of the plant's own nature, as is that of taking its own and appropriate food.

In truth it is light which, with the plant as with the animal, rules and regulates most of the ways of life. Deprived of light the whole constitution of the living being is altered. Its nutrition fails it; its frame grows weak; its energies droop. There is a much closer analogy between the blanched leaves of a green plant grown in a cellar and the pale face of a child bred in the slums than one might at first sight be inclined to suppose.

There are certain plants, notably climbers, which do not exhibit for the sun the stable affection of most other plants. Tendrils whereby many of these plants climb are not influenced by the light. Were it so they would tend to move away from the support whereby they cling. The vineria is an excellent example of a plant which, itself a climber by means of twining winds itself regularly around its support without apparently regarding the light. Of the morning glory the same fact is true.

But these assertions about the non-sensitiveness of tendrils and climbers to the light do not tell all. If you watch a young climbing plant when it has just begun existence, and when it has raised its first leaf buds and stems above the ground, you will see that it is as sensitive to the light—as "heliotrope," in other words—as any other plant.

Later on, when the climbing habit develops and appears, this sensitiveness is lost. It has exchanged its early primitive tendency—the universal habit of turning to the light—for another habit which better suits its new and acquired existence. Climbing, in other words, is incompatible with the constant desire to press forward to the light. The plant cannot both, "have its cake and eat it," hence, as Darwin showed, twining and climbers must consider their supports and must let the question of light go by the board.

From these facts scientists argue that the habit of growing toward the light is really a universal habit of all plants.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY OBSERVED

Many Visitors Inspect Local Institutions; Mayor Thomas Of Columbus Among Them

Today was National Hospital Day, fittingly observed in memory of Florence Nightingale, founder of the first hospital. May 12 is her birthday anniversary.

In Portsmouth the four hospitals, Hemphosted, Schirman, Mercy and Selby gactory were open during special hours for visitors and inspection.

At Hemphosted and Schirman hospitals refreshments were served. At Mercy hospital a special committee was present to receive the visitors.

Mayor J. J. Thomas of Columbus, and James Maddox, theatre manager and member of the Columbus board of education, who were here with the Columbus tourists, were directed about the city by Mayor William Gableman, who took pleasure in showing the visitors through the city's three hospitals and several of the new schools. The visitors expressed surprise at the well equipped hospitals and splendidly built schools.

"Wherever you see a town with substantial school buildings you will find a good city, and that is the situation I happily found existed in Portsmouth today," Mayor Thomas said. "The city has reasons to feel proud of the schools and in the manner in which they are being conducted. They reflect great credit to your town."

Mr. Maddox, who formerly resided here, met many old friends while in the city. "Jim," as he is popularly known, is well and prosperous and thoroughly enjoyed his visit. He introduced Mayor Thomas to many of the city's business men.

Bank Alarm Booms; No Burglars Around

Police were filled with visions of a bank robbery when they responded to a call to the Security Bank shortly before eleven o'clock Thursday night but their fears were dispelled on arriving at the big financial institution when an investigation disclosed that the alarm was caused by the burglar alarm system becoming out of order.

The sounding of the alarm which rang for nearly half an hour attracted a big crowd to the scene before it was shut off by a repair man sent by bank officials after they were notified.

They recognize in it a fitting tribute to the man who has worked unceasingly to build up the schools of the city, and who has given unstintingly of his talents toward their betterment, contributing, meanwhile, to every constructive and uplifting force in the community.

THE STORY OF ONE NURSE

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE, THE LAMP THAT MADE HER FAMOUS. A VERSE OF LONGFELLOW'S POEM DEDICATED TO HER, AND VIEWS SHOWING THE VALUED WORK OF MODERN-DAY NURSES

EIGHTY years ago a nurse was a drudge, a so-called "ward maid," whose standing was that of a scrubwoman.

Florence Nightingale, coming from a distinguished English family, shocked her friends and relatives when she began nursing the sick. It was in this war service that she won the name of "The Lady of the Lamp," because of her devoted practice of going through the hospital wards at all hours of the night. Longfellow wrote a famous poem under this title.

Nursing has advanced far since Florence Nightingale's day. The profession has become more and more specialized, and the training more rigorous as standards were raised. In these days nurses are to be found not only in sick rooms, but in public health service, in industrial work in laboratories, in schools, in operating rooms; everywhere, in fact, that offers a place to save life and relieve suffering.

And wherever there are nurses, May 12 probably always will be observed as the birthday of Florence Nightingale.

Community Swimming Club To Open

A special committee composed of Mrs. Jno. Lowry, chairman; Mrs. W. F. Englebrecht, secretary; Mrs. Charles Waldron, Mrs. Raymond York, Mrs. Harry Revere, Mrs. Jesse Church, Mrs. Dr. Martin, Mrs. Oscar Shoemaker, Mrs. James Veley, Mrs. Mavis Bridges, Mrs. John Grimes, Mrs. Howard Newman, Mrs. Charles Kennard, Mrs. J. W. Bannon have organized a Community Swimming club to keep the pool at the auditorium open during the summer, as well as keeping it perfectly clean and sanitary.

This comes as very welcome news to many persons here, because the great interest that was aroused in swimming last summer is reviving as the warm days approach. The heating and filtering system has been improved, and warm clean water is assured at all times. Dr. Tatje, health commissioner, after investigating the pool, sent the following statement to the committee:

"The swimming pool, in the basement of the Winter Garden, has been inspected, and has been found to be in ideal shape. The heating and filtering of the water (through sand filter) is the same as is to be found in numerous pools throughout the country."

"O. D. TATJE,"
"Commissioner of Health."
The swimming club is a very unique and practical organization. Membership tickets are sold for $1.00 a month. The holder of the ticket is entitled to a swim or a shower any time that the pool is open, unless that particular period has been reserved for a special group. Certain days have been reserved for men and certain days for women and girls. If you are a member of the swimming club, after your game of tennis or golf, you can hustle to the pool for a dip or shower before supper.

Non-swimmers are asked to wear green caps and swimmers red caps. A non-swimmer becomes a swimmer, and entitled to wear a red cap, when she can swim all around the pool without stopping or touching the bottom. This precaution is taken in order that the ones in charge of the pool may be able to tell at a glance if a non-swimmer is in danger of going beyond her depth.

Single admission to the pool, that is, admission without tickets, will be 25c. Private lessons will be given for 50c a lesson for the first six lessons. After that anyone who has not yet learned will receive free private lessons until she does learn, or have her money refunded.

Tickets can be had upon application to any member of the committee or from any member of the Girls' Community club, or at the office of the Bureau of Community Service. Tickets are on sale today.

The pool will open, under the new regime, on Monday, May 15th. The schedule will be as follows:

Monday, 3:00 p. m.—Girls. 7:30 p. m.—Married couples.

Tuesday, 10:00 to 11:30 a. m.—Private lessons. 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.—Girls and young women. Boys under 10. 7:30 p. m.—Community club girls.

Wednesday, 3:00 p. m.—High school girls. 7:30 p. m.—Single couples.

Thursday, 3:30 and 7:30 p. m.—Girls and women.

Grade Pupils Stage A Delightful May Festival

Standing room in the spacious high school auditorium was at a premium last night when the pupils, of the first, second, third and fourth grades of the public schools gave a May Festival that was voted a big success and one of the best affairs ever staged by the smaller pupils of the local schools. The auditorium was filled with the parents and friends of the children taking part and each and every one seemed to enjoy the singing, dancing, drills and dialogue given by the youngsters.

The entire program of music has been taken from the school music readers, and the chorus work under the direction of Miss Harriet Scarff, is worthy of special note.

An added feature of the program was a toe dance by little Miss Virginia May who offered her bit between acts.

Principal Thompson announced this morning that his students were perfect gentlemen and had agreed to retain their collars and ties the remainder of the school term.

Soviet Proposes To Let Down Bars Slightly In Russia

MOSCOW, May 12.—(By A. P.)—Legalized recognition of private property rights in money, industrial and agricultural products and other physical property and to a certain extent in real estate, is proposed in decrees which the soviet government prepared for presentation before the all-Russian central executive committee today. The committee, which in effect is the Russian parliament, is thus asked to make laws granting foreign capital to work hand in hand with soviet Russia and also to pass another decree giving peasants prolonged tenure of land which they now hold as well as the right to lease land under certain circumstances.

The decrees recognizing private property as drafted by the commissariat of justice, provides that foreigners shall be given the rights of protection of their property only on condition that Russians are granted the same rights abroad.

UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH NEWS

Plans have been outlined for some very special services at the United Brethren Church, corner Seventh and Gay streets for the remaining Sundays of May.

Next Sunday Mother's Day will be appropriately observed during the Sunday School and morning worship period. A special committee has planned special numbers in recognition of Motherhood to be rendered during the closing period of the Sunday school hour. Carnations or special bouquets of flowers will be pinned upon each mother present. All the mothers of the Church and Sunday School are planning to attend the morning worship period in a body and occupy the middle section of seats in the Auditorium. The Pastor will preach a special sermon to mothers on "The Increasing Significance of Mother's Day." Honoring "your own little mother" every man, woman and child is urged to remain for this special service.

At the evening service an effort is being made to have the entire membership of the church present to observe the third quarterly communion service. All individuals who have joined the church under the present paritote are especially urged to be present and participate in this service in a body.

A special committee has been appointed to plan for and announce special features for Sunday the twenty-first of May.

A Memorial service will be held on Sunday morning the 28th, at which the friends of loved ones who have departed during the past year will assemble as a tribute of respect to their blessed memory. At the evening service the Church will act as host to Calvary Commandery Knight Templars in the observance of a special Ascension Day program.

EAGLES MEET; PLAN FOR EXCURSION

There was a good attendance at the regular meeting of River City Aerics No. 507 P. O. Eagles Thursday evening when two applications were received. Arrangements were completed for a moonlight excursion to be given under the auspices of the local Aerics on the palatial steamer East St. Louis on the evening of May 22.

MOTHER'S DAY AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Mother's Day will be observed at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday. The services at ten thirty o'clock Sunday morning will be in keeping with the National Day. The various parts of the service will pay tribute to Mother. Mrs. J. M. Stockham's organ numbers, which are always pleasing, will be so Sunday, especially the number "Old Folks At Home" by Foster. The anthem of the morning, "That Old Song" Herbert, and Mrs. O. J. Deitzler's solo "Mother McCree" will be special features of the service. The pastor will speak on the subject "A Mother's Faith."

British Term Russ Reply Very Stupid

GENOA, May 12.—(By the Associated Press)—A statement of the British view on the Russian reply to the allied memorandum this afternoon terms the document "very stupid from the view-point of Russian interests," but says Great Britain is not prepared to adopt the view that Europe is to be denied peace or the Russian people further consideration in their misery simply because of a stupid argument.

"As far as Russia is concerned," continues the statement, "help will undoubtedly be delayed and rendered more difficult, but that is an affair of the Russian government."

CARPENTIER BEATS KID LEWIS IN ONE ROUND; BLOW IS PERFECTLY FAIR, SAYS THE REFEREE

Sport Critics Say Fight Was Bloomer; Fans Disgusted

LONDON, May 12.—(By A. P.)—The blow with which Georges Carpentier knocked out Ted "Kid" Lewis in the first round of their championship bout here last night was legitimate, in the judgment of the so-called experts, who reported the fight. Critics of "foul" came from all parts of the Olympia auditorium when the decisive blow was struck.

Joe Palmer, the referee, is quoted in the Daily Telegraph as saying: "The blow was perfectly fair. The men had broken from a clinch and it was Lewis' business to protect himself. This he failed to do."

It is asserted by some of the newspaper writers that Lewis had several times broken from the clinch, but his failure to guard himself in the final break is declared an amazing blunder.

One or two of the reporters, while conceding that Carpentier, by the strict letter of the rules was entitled to act as he did, complain that his conduct lacked regard for the spirit of the regulations which the Frenchman has invariably displayed in his previous fights. While conceding that he was rightly proclaimed winner, they predicted that a breakdown will be known during a breakaway will be long debated and that Lewis' supporters are likely to reassert that the blow was foul, especially as they can

Who Will Win The Derby Saturday?

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 12.—Nine thoroughbreds, representing the cream of the American turf, are scheduled to take a final workout today in preparation for the supreme test of tomorrow when they face the barrier in the 48th renewal of the Kentucky Derby. Perhaps a tenth will be added before the day is over to battle for the $50,000 added money in the rich classic.

With the arrival yesterday of Starnie, By Gosh, Surt Rider and Lettermen, the field was brought up to nine prospective starters. Of the candidates who were already on hand, Morvich, the Benjamin Black colt, still loomed the favorite on the eve of the great race, though Deadlock, John Finn, Bet Mose and My Play were not without staunch supporters among the hundreds who thronged Churchill Downs for a glimpse of the stars of the racing world. The tenth, still regarded as a very doubtful starter, is Busy American, and those who have watched the Bradley colt in the trials earnestly are hoping that he will be in condition to go the route when the barrier is sprung.

Only one filly will enter the breathless two minute drive tomorrow, according to present predictions, this being Starnie. She will carry 121 pounds, while the others will be annexed an additional five.

KENNETH WILLIAMS' OWN STORY

DUCK PIN LEAGUE

BY KEN WILLIAMS

One ambition is to lead the home-run hitters of the American League for the season of 1922.

I am positive I will accomplish that feat. I am already out in front with a comfortable margin.

Last year with Rob Meusel I shared second honors to Ruth in the matter of home runs. This season I hope to show the way to all the American League sluggers.

When the season opened I made up my mind to go after these honors. With Ruth and Meusel under suspension I felt that I was offered a great opportunity to break in to the home-run spotlight.

Succeeded Very Well

Thus far I have succeeded very well in my efforts to show the way. Getting three home runs in one game, something no other American League batsman has ever been able to do, gave me a great start. I am now on the way, hitting on all six.

Ruth's suspension is a very unfortunate thing for Ruth and mighty lucky for me. If Ruth was in the game there is a chance that he would be out in front.

Williams and the 10 home runs that I have already made wouldn't be getting any consideration.

Ruth a Superman

Ruth is a remarkable batter. He is a superman if ever there was one. It seems almost foolish for anyone to aspire to equal his feats of slugging, yet that is my ambition. In making three home runs in one game I have already done something that the great Ruth has not as yet accomplished.

In order to hit home runs a batsman must get the breaks. Team play is the big thing in baseball. No individual should sacrifice team play for personal record.

In making my present home-run record I have always played for my team rather than myself. Conditions of the game have always justified my taking a healthy swing, which is the only way you can make a home run.

That is lesson number one in the art of making home runs.

I Am Not Interested In Felsch's Claims

MILWAUKEE, WIS., May 12.—The 1919 world's series scandal which wrecked the Chicago American league team and sent seven star baseball players to oblivion at least so far as professional baseball careers are concerned, today has been reopened. Tomorrow in Milwaukee circuit court, Judge John J. Gregory will act on an affidavit filed by Oscar (Happy) Felsch, one of the banished players, which requests Charles A. Comiskey, president and his son, Louis, treasurer of the White Sox club, be summoned to answer a list of questions which would dig deeply into the financial and other affairs of the American league club.

Felsch presented the affidavit in amplification of his suit against the Comiskys to recover salary for 1920, with certain bonuses, and compensation for damages sustained in an alleged conspiracy maliciously to injure his reputation and prevent him remaining a major league baseball player.

The list of questions Felsch would have the Comiskys asked would deal with whether Comiskey conspired with the Sox players in 1917 in an attempt to have the Detroit club intentionally lose games to the Sox and whether that service was repaid in 1919 by having the Sox toss four games to Detroit.

Another question would ask whether Mr. Comiskey and players, now on the White Sox roster, conspired to make a pool of $50 from each Chicago player to be paid to Detroit pitchers in 1917 to lose games to the Sox.

Suits similar to that filed by Felsch are being planned by attorneys for "Buck" Weaver, "Swede" Ribberg and Eddie Cicotte, all members of the White Sox in 1919 and now barred from organized baseball.

Most of the questions asked by Felsch were answered in the baseball inquiry of 1910, and practically nothing new has developed from Felsch's suit.

K. M. Lamis, former federal judge, now baseball commissioner, declared he was not interested in the Felsch suit, said a Chicago dispatch.

Looks Like Dempsey And Carp Will Clash Again

LONDON, May 12.—(By A. P.)—An agreement for Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey to meet either in London or Paris before next May has been reached by Jack Kearns and Francis Desamps. Kearns told The Associated Press today. The two managers agreed to leave the promotion of the event to the parties offering the best terms.

Carpentier and Dempsey are to be free to meet other men in the meantime, but a defeat for either prior to the time set for the Dempsey-Carpentier match would cancel the agreement.

Britton Is Willing To Meet Benny; Needs Time To Prepare

TULSA, OKLA., May 12.—Jack Britton is willing to risk the welterweight championship in a bout with Benny Leonard, the lightweight king in New York, but his western program, already napped out, will not permit such a bout before June 10, according to a statement by Danny Morgan, Britton's manager, here today.

Telegraphic reports from New York that Britton and Leonard are signed for a bout June 1 are premature, Morgan said. Leonard may have been signed.

While Britton is perfectly willing to tackle Leonard again, he would not do so without what he considered ample time to prepare, Morgan declared.

FRESHMEN KNOW MORE

IN contradiction to the prevailing idea that the younger you are the more optimistic you are, and the more ready to tempt fortune to do its worst with you, is the report of the result of an inquiry made of the students of the women's college of the University of Delaware, as to how much salary a man should have to justify matrimony.

For the sum named by the girl students decreased instead of increased with the years, and the freshmen were shown to be far more canny than the seniors when it came to fixing the sum they would be willing to undertake to spend for a man. While the majority of the seniors and juniors thought they could manage with $2,500 a year, the sophomores demanded $3,000 and the freshmen $5,000, as the sum which would induce them to marry.

The questions, unfortunately for the men these girls intend to marry, failed to disclose the reasons why the freshmen's matrimonial budget is twice that of the senior or junior, whether it is because the freshmen's tastes are more extravagant or whether she has not studied the subject so long or so well as the upper class girls.

SHE WOULDN'T BE "DARED"

IF no man is a hero to his valet, may it be inferred that no policeman is a terror to his wife? A sergeant of the police reserves in New York may cast the deciding vote on this, although his wife may be no less competent. The other day he came home somewhat peevish about something and when his wife picked up his belt with his service revolver in it, he tauntingly "dared" her to shoot him. A man may think he knows much about the wife he has been cherishing and yet be in ignorance, as in this case, for "the missus" accepted the dare and put a big bullet through his shoulder.

Woman is the mysterious being, and only the reckless or peevish, or ignorant man, will attempt her to unknown flights. For more likely than not she will jump at the chance to do the very thing a man would swear she couldn't be bribed or driven to do. Criminals, and law-breakers, and subordinates on the force may have stood in awe of this big sergeant, but the woman he thought would be too timid, to handle a revolver shot him with as much coolness as a veteran gunman. It isn't always safe to dare a woman to do something you don't want done.

TALKING DEBT WITH FRANCE

IN the report from Paris that the American debt funding commission has formally notified the French government of its authority we read that, "this step is taken in official circles as a polite intimation that the time has come to enter into serious negotiations for payments on the debt, although it is not believed here that the American commission intends to force matters." Nor do Americans expect or desire any force to be exerted. Not the slightest unfriendliness to France or other allied debtors is to be read into the act of congress the resolution of the funding commission or the request for French government observations concerning the execution of the terms of the law.

A hint is given of what these "observations" may be. France intends to pay all she owes but must have a chance to collect some debts owing to her. This is not unreasonable. It will lay the ground for serious consideration of what she may safely engage to do in the future. Negotiations will be slow. Decisions in detail will depend to an extent on the outcome of the conference at Genoa. But France will make an important contribution toward solution of the complicated European debt problem by giving pledges to America, even though they be of a contingent character. Reflecting on her own embarrassed state she may the more readily be persuaded to serve her own interests most by being considerate of her debtors' necessities and condition.

A government official is quoted as saying about the American claim, "we are glad to be generous with our allies, but in order to do so our allies must stand with us." There will be no drawing apart of the allies if reason is permitted to guide them all. If France cannot pay her debts unless she collects from her debtors, it must be clear to her that she will have to grant extensions to those without present ability to pay in full. The debt funding commission probably will be very helpful in suggesting plans of adjustment that will enable to ultimate satisfaction of all just claims. But success in dealing with war indebtedness will scarcely be achieved unless business considerations be substituted for political.

The popularity achieved by that congresswoman from Oklahoma is all the more marvelous when it is remembered that she was handicapped by the fact that Jeanette Rankin preceded her.

The United States still has some distance to go to catch up with Turkey, which has 26 holidays a year when business is entirely suspended.

The injunction to love your neighbor doesn't mean going to the extent where it is possible to become involved in a divorce suit.

Richard Croker is said to have told young politicians to tell the truth. But he probably never told them to tell all of it.

Some girls grow up and become credits to their families, but more grow up and become liabilities to their husbands.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 12—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The Washington Square Art center. Intellectual giants and pygmies. Living in attics and top floors of old mansions. Jolly black boards and howling ties. Haggard and restless exotics. Tragic eyes and mouths like red slits in Pierrot white faces. Why does art have to be so serious?
Men and women sculpting before open windows. Ashtrays piled with much-bottles, state sandwiches and Russian cigarette butts. Coffee and tea rooms a-buzz with cynics. Tiny parks with middle class husbands selling their own-baby carriages. Sidewalk groups discussing nihilism, shorter hours, capitalism and perhaps violence. Barred organs and jolly pops.
Fourteenth Street. Coquetish and deeply perfumed. No art. Just cutters started here. They still have many-arcades. And medical museums with Van Dyke medical illustrations on the floor above. Viennese bakeries and butterfly pretzel stands. Baskets of pink-nosed rabbits.

Twenty-five cents a pair. I like to watch their noses twitch. Cellular book-shops heaped with philosophic rubbish yellow with age. Summer vagabonds dozing in the stony spaces. Short streets that blur into shambles. The old cafe where Jack London used to expound socialist theories. And drink it straight.
Clerks in white flannels subways to Coney Island. Row after row of boarded saloons. Who was it said men kill the thing they love? Jack Anderson, the sculptor. Ancient cabbies dozing on their porches in front of the Bressort. John Siddall, the editor. Scrubbed-white stone steps and shiny brass knuckers. And Mark Twain's peaceful old home. An empty seat atop a bus. Now for a ride near the clouds.
Karl Kitchen, the globe trotting journalist, recently occupied the same state room with Douglas Fairbanks enroute to California. One morning they were in the midst of an interesting discussion and the train went suddenly into a long tunnel. Kitchen

THE BIBLE IN PICTURES AND TEXT

By HELEN E. GRIFFITH

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

GOD gave Moses many laws for the children of Israel to obey. The greatest of these were the ten commandments:

1. Thou shalt have no other gods before me.
2. Thou shalt not make any graven image, nor bow down to it, nor worship it.
3. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord, thy God in vain.
4. Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy.
5. Honor thy father and thy mother.
6. Thou shalt not kill.
7. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
8. Thou shalt not steal.
9. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
10. Thou shalt not covet anything that is thy neighbor's.

was driving home a forebode point and when the train came out into the sunlight again he found himself talking to an empty plush seat. Fairbanks had frankly lifted himself into the clothes shelf along the side of the room.

Talking about acrobatics, every now and then at the N. Y. A. club—home of vaudevillians—some of the jesters walk out of the club on their hands and stand about talking to each other while traffic proceeds to come to a full and decided stop. Then they pull phony fights on summer evenings. One acrobat, after a crowd has collected, swings at another and the man receiving the blow turns a back somersault in the air and after fighting crouches and calls "I dare you to hit me."

The Broadway dancing "academies" are being raided almost weekly. Many of them are said to be run by astute criminals who have the "professional dancers" there to lure men to robbery and confidence schemes. Also the girls always know of some secret place where one may buy a drink or perhaps a quart of the good old stuff. They get a percentage of all the trade they secure. The places are also haunts for the desperate young criminals who have been playing ing such havoc with cigar store cash registers of late.

Things That Never Die
The pure, the bright, the beautiful that stirred our hearts in youth, The impulses to wordless prayer, The streams of love and truth, The longing after something lost, The spirit's yearning cry, The striving after better hopes— These things can never die.

The timid hand stretched forth to aid A brother in his need; A kindly word in grief's dark hour That moves a friend indeed. The plan for mercy softly launched, When justice threatens high, The sorrow of a contrite heart— These things shall never die.

Let nothing pass, for every hand Must find some work to do. Lose not a chance to waken love— Be firm and just and true. Be shall a light that cannot fade Beam on their path on high, And angel voices say to thee— "These things shall never die."
—Charles Dickens.

Tedious Pastime — Waiting For A Seat In The Dining Car — By Briggs

Thrifty Muse

"If you write verses advertising soap, soap and cosmetics you'll never be known as one of the immortals." "Probably not," said the commercial bard. "Neither will posterity write indignant letters to the press because the present generation permitted me to starve."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Some Description

Wife—And how did Mrs. Smart look?
Hubby—Fine. She wore a dress of some sort of cloth, with some sort of trimming. It was a kind of purple or blue-red in color. And she had one of those hats you sometimes see on women. Taken all together it gave an effect I wish you could have seen.

Juvenile Consideration

"Papa, will you buy me a drum?" asked a little lad of his father. "But, my boy," answered papa, "I'm afraid you will disturb me very much with it." "Oh, no, I won't, papa," promised the little fellow. "I'll only play it when you're asleep."—Detroit Free Press.

Readily Explained

A company of tourists were taken over the castle at Blois. "This," said the guide, "is the room in which the Duke de Guise was murdered." "What's that?" interrupted a tourist. "When I came here two years ago I was told it was the room opposite." "Ah," said the guide, quite calm. "This room was undergoing repairs at the time."

A Sweet Sound

Phyllis—Has Dick proposed yet?
Doris—No; but he has an engagement ring in his voice.

Widely Said

Some one asked us a few days ago if Easter Sunday was a sister of Billy Sunday. Since prohibition folks don't give the dandelion crop time to bloom and go to seed, I am worried about the future of the crop. When you see a girl with a new diamond on her finger, you can guess she will soon have a man on her hands. The only way some girls can turn pale is to take a handkerchief, and wipe the red paint off their face. Some girls use so much paint on their cheeks that they may soon have to take to wall paper to get the proper effect.

A Bright Boy

There were at a slight-of-hand show. The magician addressed the boy in the front row. "Your mother can't get eggs without hens, now, can she?" he asked. "Oh yes," said the boy. "How's that?" asked the magician. "She keeps ducks," answered the boy.—Exchange.

Treacherous Memory

"Hello, sir; remember me?" "Can't say I do, sir." "I met you at the club one day." "I'm a very poor hand at remembering faces." "Why, that was the day I tipped you off on the stock market." "So? Come to get myself together, your face does seem familiar." "After which I borrowed ten dollars from you." "Certainly, I remember you." "And you promised that when next we met you'd lend me another ten." "Pardon me, I was mistaken in the face."

Use of Fringe

Tramp—"Dis fashion note says as how clothes may be made chicker by a clever use of fringe." "How?" "Well, I got plenty of fringe, but I dunno whether I got it cleverly placed or not."

Telling On Dad

The Father—So God has sent you two more little brothers, Dolly?
Dolly (aged 7)—Yes, and he is the only one that knows where the money is coming from. I heard daddy say so.—Exchange.

As Usual

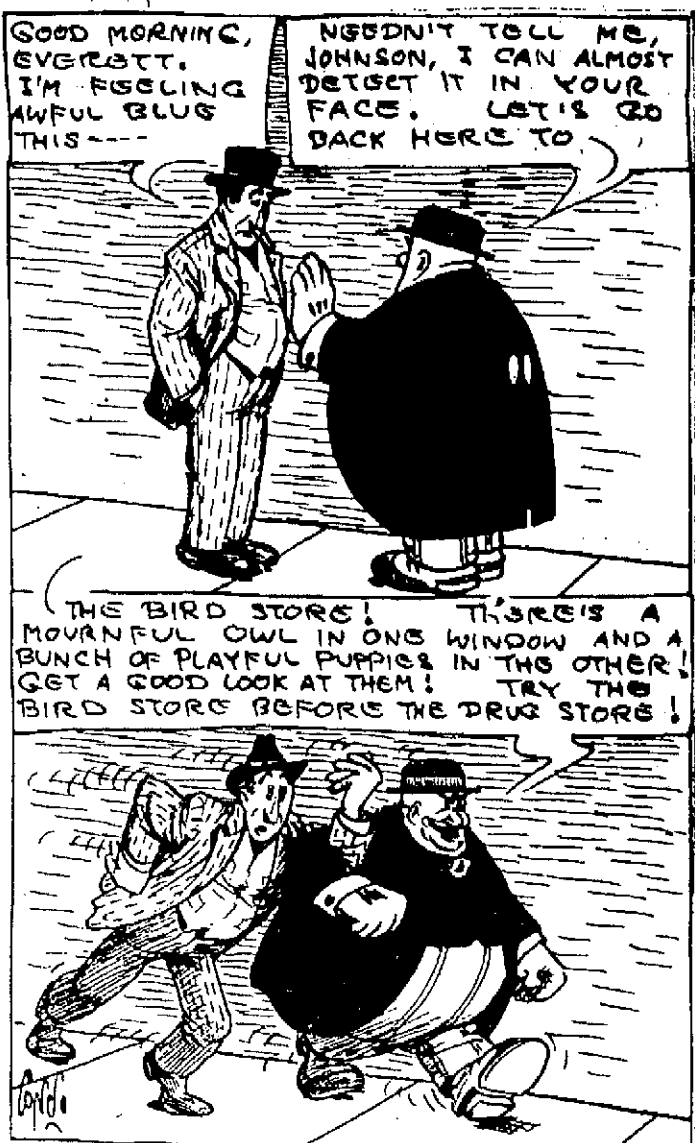

She—My dad's a public speaker.
He—My ma never gives my dad a chance I speak when they're out in public.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You will rise for an introduction only when the woman to whom you are presented is older than yourself. Women do not rise at presentation, whereas gentlemen always do. You will remain seated when a woman friend stops at your table to speak to you. Women rise in such circumstances only if the woman who joins the group is elderly. Men, however, rise even though they are not addressed.
You will pass through the door and hold it open for your guests when entering your own home with friends.
